Raffles Interior Limited

(Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

(Stock Code: 1376)

INSIDE INFORMATION RECEIPT OF JUDGMENT DISCHARGING INJUNCTION ORDER AND RESUMPTION OF TRADING

Raffles Interior Limited refers to (i) its announcement dated 16 January 2026 regarding the receipt of a Court Order issued by the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (“Injunction Order Announcement”), and (ii) its announcement dated 23 February 2026 in relation to the trading halt. Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this announcement are defined in the Injunction Order Announcement.

This announcement is made by the Board pursuant to Rule 13.09(2)(a) of the Listing Rules and the Inside Information Provisions (as defined under the Listing Rules) under Part XIVA of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong).

RECEIPT OF JUDGMENT DISCHARGING THE PREVIOUS INJUNCTION ORDER

As stated in the Injunction Order Announcement, pursuant to the Court Order, an inter partes hearing of the Plaintiff’s ex parte summons would be held on the Return Date to consider whether the Court would allow the Court Order, which includes the injunctive relief sought by the Plaintiff, to continue to take effect. Such inter partes hearing was held on 4 February 2026 in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (the “Court Hearing”).

The Company is pleased to inform its shareholders that the Court has discharged the ex parte injunction order dated 11 January 2026 following the inter partes Court Hearing. The Court’s judgment following the Court Hearing (the “Judgment”) dated 16 February 2026 was handed down on 18 February 2026, and, among others, ordered that:

- (1) the Plaintiff’s ex parte injunction dated 11 January 2026 is discharged; and

(2) the Plaintiff's application for relief restraining the Directors from further postponing the EGM from 20 March 2026, restraining the Directors from preventing the Plaintiff from attending the EGM and requiring the Directors to count the Plaintiff's votes on all resolutions, is adjourned to a date to be fixed.

In the Judgment, the Court stated its preliminary view that the Plaintiff should pay the Company's costs of the summons, to be taxed on the standard basis if not agreed. That said, the Court gave directions for the parties to make submissions in support of different order if so advised.

As a result of the Judgment, the Company is no longer subject to the restrictions previously imposed against the Company under the Court Order. Therefore, the Company is no longer subject to restrictions from, among others, (i) issuing New Shares, (ii) engaging placement agent in respect of any placement of the New Shares, (iii) registering any purchaser of the New Shares as a member of the Company in the Company's register of members in respect of any New Shares; and/or (iv) seeking approval from the Stock Exchange for listing of any New Shares.

Consequential Matters Following the Court Hearing

As disclosed in the Injunction Order Announcement, under the Court Order, the Plaintiff provided certain undertaking to the Court, including that if the Court later finds that the Court Order has caused loss to the Company and decides that the Company should be compensated for that loss, the Plaintiff will comply with any order the Court may make.

Following the handing down of the Judgment, the parties are entitled to make submissions to the Court in respect of consequential and related matters, including without limitation, as to costs.

The Company is seeking legal advice on the Judgment. Specifically, the Company will, among others, seek recovery from the Plaintiff the costs incurred by the Company in responding to the summons. The Company also reserves the right to pursue claims against the Plaintiff for the numerous misrepresentations and/or misleading statements under its affirmation that was submitted to the Court and for any losses suffered by the Company caused by the discharged ex parte injunction order.

The Company will keep its shareholders and potential investors informed of any further material development regarding the above and will make further announcement(s) as and when appropriate in accordance with the Listing Rules.

Shareholders and potential investors should exercise caution when dealing in the shares of the Company.
