VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT

CLARIFICATION ANNOUNCEMENT IN RELATION TO MEDIA REPORTS

This announcement is made by Shenzhen Creality 3D Technology Co., Ltd. (深圳市創想三維科技股份有限公司) (the “Company”, together with its subsidiaries, the “Group”) on a voluntary basis. Reference is made to the prospectus dated May 20, 2026 (the “Prospectus”) issued by the Company for detailed information about the Global Offering.

This announcement is made by the board of directors (“Board”) of the Company in response to certain media reports and online discussions circulating on the internet (“Media Reports”) regarding a litigation brought against the Company in the New York State Court in the United States by a 3D scanner manufacturer headquartered in Europe (the “U.S. Dispute”), and certain copyright- and platform-related disputes in the PRC involving MakerWorld and Bambu Lab (the “PRC Disputes,” together with the U.S. Dispute, the “Disputes”).

The Board noted that the Media Reports alleged that the Company failed to fully disclose in the Prospectus the relevant Disputes, or selectively disclosed information relating thereto.

The Board wishes to clarify that, as detailed in the Prospectus, the U.S. Dispute concerns allegations of intellectual property infringement filed against one of our suppliers and the Company, with claims that the relevant products infringe upon the plaintiff’s patent and copyright rights. On April 19, 2026, the court granted summary judgment on the literal non-infringement of one patent and denied the Company’s motion for summary judgment as to all remaining patent infringement claims. For further details, please refer to “Risk Factors – We may become involved in lawsuits to protect or enforce our intellectual property, or to defend ourselves if third parties claim that we infringe upon their intellectual property rights” and “Business – Legal Proceedings and Compliance” in the Prospectus. As of the date of this announcement, according to the information the Company has received, this case is still pending judgement as to the plaintiff’s remaining patent infringement claims. Based on the limited sales volume of the products involved and the assessment of the case from the Company’s litigation counsels, this lawsuit is not expected to have a material adverse impact on the Company.

The Board wishes to further clarify that the Company has assessed the materiality of the PRC Disputes with due enquiry and consideration. As of the date of the Prospectus, no judgment or finding of liability was made by the court against the Company or the other defendants. Having considered the maximum compensation amount in the case, and the relevant measures taken by the Company, the Company's PRC Legal Advisor was of the view that this matter does not and will not have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, results of operations and financial conditions. Based on the abovementioned, the Company considered that such disputes did not meet the applicable threshold for disclosure in the Prospectus as a material litigation matter and were not expected to have any material adverse effect on the Group's business operations, financial position or future development. Please also refer to the risk factor disclosure in the Prospectus relating to, among other things, intellectual property disputes, online platform operations, reputational risks and potential adverse publicity.

The Company will continue to closely monitor the progress of the Disputes. Should there be any material development in respect of the Disputes that triggers the Company's disclosure obligations under applicable laws, regulations or the Listing Rules, the Company will make further announcement(s) and fulfil its information disclosure obligations in a timely manner in accordance with the relevant requirements.

Save as disclosed in the Prospectus and other announcements published by the Company on the websites of the Company and the Stock Exchange, there is no other material information that should be brought to the attention of the shareholders of the Company and potential investors.

Shareholders and potential investors of the Company are reminded not to rely on statements in the Media Reports, and shall be advised to exercise caution when dealing in the securities of the Company. The Company reserved the right to take legal action against any act of maliciously spreading of false information to mislead the public.

By order of the Board
